

Billy Seybold's Early Years, 1977-1986

Fall 1977, Columbine Trail. The difference between men and baby boys . . . the beverages!
Photo on book cover: Sept. 15, 1979.

At far left, Willie May Winn and friend.

At near left, having a snack before the christening in Houston in May 1978.

Both photos are from the summer of 1978. At right is Ute Trails Boys Camp.

Christmas 1978.

February 25, 1979.

The battle begins!

Above: Moe, Shemp and Larry? Above right: Happy trails. Below right: Cowboys.

Clockwise from upper left:
Don't look down! Metberry
Gulch. Campfire tales.

At the park.

Christmas 1980, Cascade Ave.

Counterclockwise from the top: Texas Creek in Colorado, Christmas 1981 and ice fishing.

Opposite page: Disney World, 1984.
Above left: Conway Camper.
Above right: At Mount Rushmore, 1984.
Right: Tae Kwon Do.

Left, the family gathers in Breckenridge. Above, skiing with Will Robertson in Aspen. Opposite page: Hollywood! Dec. 9, 1984.

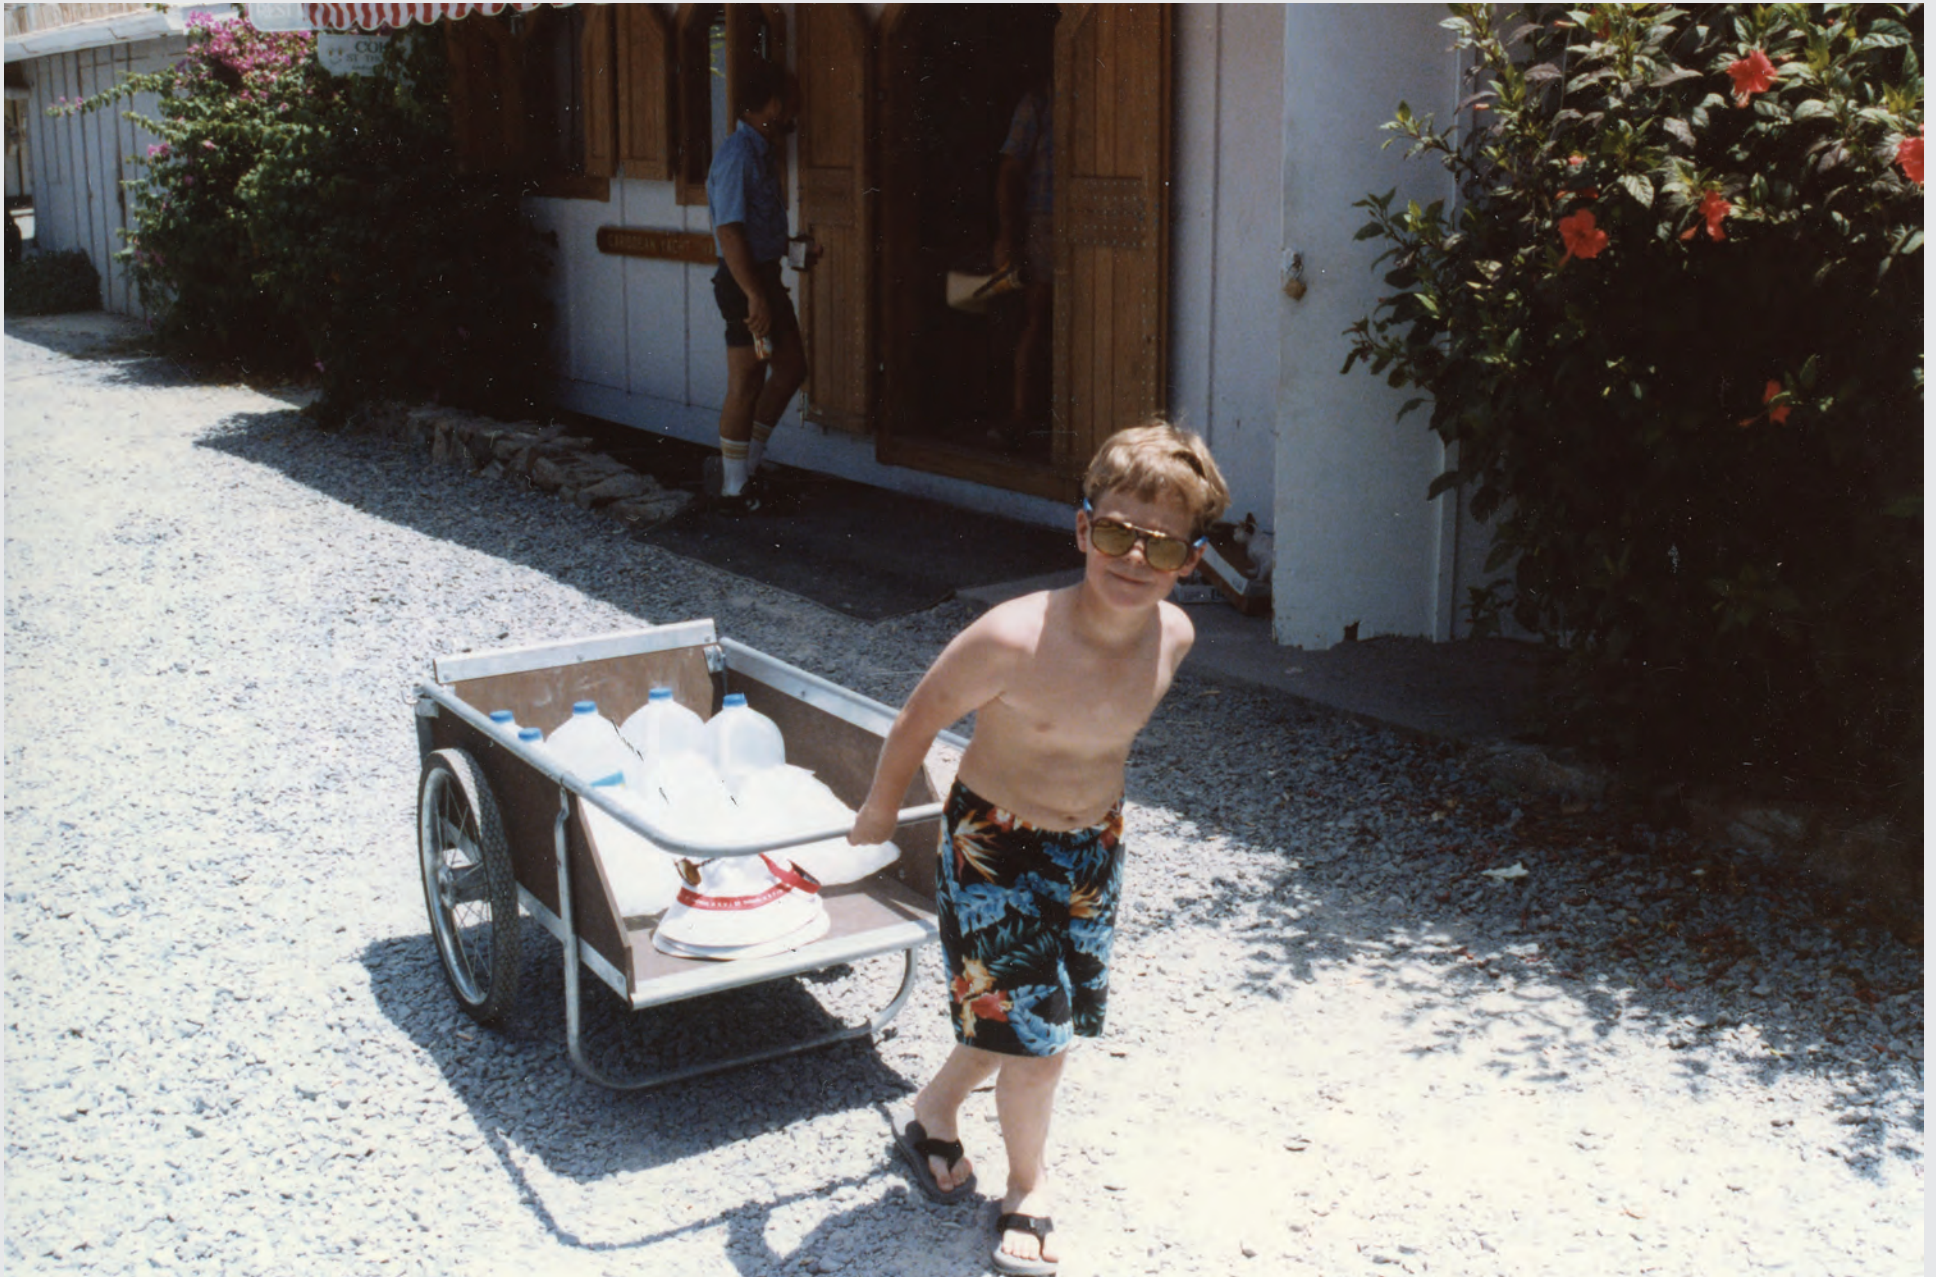

Seybold Gothic at 6 Lake Avenue.

Counterclockwise from top left: Christmas 1984; Easter at Cheyenne Mountain Country Club; Blue River.

1986 in the Caribbean.
Loading the boat.

Ready to sail.

California, here we come!

“Do I look like a Californian?”

Opposite page: With the Somervilles.

Above, Cambridge 1986.

Above, Christmas 1986.